

- A legal team got together and has consulted with an attorney to represent us as we go forward with legal options for stopping the Nestle water extraction and bottling plant plans. The same attorney helped Kunkletown, PA in Eldred Township find a legal solution to get Nestle out of their community before they could get started, which took two years of litigation.
- Door knocking continues today and tomorrow 1-5 pm in Spring Township to obtain petition signatures to say NO to Nestle, recruit volunteers and answer questions community members might have. If you are interested in helping, please contact Courtney Morris at creolemaroon83@gmail.com or Lynne Heritage at llheritage@comcast.net.
- Volunteers needed! Can you volunteer to lead or serve on a team to help with the following efforts?
  - Volunteer recruitment: Coordinate phone calls to people who signed up to volunteer at one of our events and ask them how they'd like to help.
  - Data entry: Enter names and contact information for people in Spring Township that have signed the No to Nestle petitions into a Google spreadsheet (like using Excel).
  - Door Knocking: A Spring Township resident who can organize people to knock doors in their Spring Twp neighborhood asking for petition signatures and/or drop flyers.
  - Public information flyers: As time passes and new events occur, we need someone who can design new handouts to provide information to residents.
- Lynne is ordering No to Nestle yard signs and will get them out to people who have signed up for a yard sign or want one in the future. They will cost about $5 per sign.
- Source documents from Right to Know requests and google searches of meeting minutes can be found at the following link; documents are roughly organized by source as listed in the right sidebar. <https://stopnestlewaterextraction.wordpress.com>
- We strongly encourage residents of Spring Township to talk with your supervisors and/or Water Authority Board members in person to tell them how you feel about the plan to allow Nestle to take over as Primary user as one of your wells. This will affect you whether you are a water customer or a private well owner, especially if you live in Spring Twp, Bellefonte Borough or Potter Township. Also, the Centre County Commissioners have been involved in facilitating Nestle's plans and they need to hear from you as well if you are not happy about this. You can contact any of the people on this list below and get a meeting. It works best to have two or three people go together. Contact info below. You could also write them a letter.

- Attend and let your voice be heard during public comment period at meetings, or just come to support those who are there to speak against Nestle. PLEASE attend the March 28 meeting of the Water Authority. The Spring Township Water Authority may vote on the Agreement with Nestle at that meeting and we need to be there to speak against it or at least support those who do. Here are the key meetings coming up. The event on April 18 is also important. Lara Fowler is an expert in water law and will be mediating discussion among key stakeholders about the Nestle proposed water extraction plan.

MEETING SCHEDULE: all addresses in Bellefonte
